

ALLIES REMAIN ON BATTLEFIELD TO HELP US

DR. VON KLEINSMID OF U. OF A. GIVES A NEW THOUGHT REGARDING WAR TO PRESCOTT PEOPLE; NEED OF SACRIFICE ON PART OF EVERYONE IS POINTED OUT THAT DEMOCRACY MAY TRIUMPH IN STRUGGLE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
"We are not hurrying to the battlefields to help the Allies. The Allies are remaining on the battlefields to help us."

A dread idea that has not been lacking in the back of the minds of the American people since the tardy realization came that this nation is in the greatest conflict of all ages, was expressed this last night to a Prescott audience by R. B. von Kleinsmid, president of the University of Arizona, speaker for the State Defense Council in behalf of preparatory measures for war. America is not getting into this war in order to help European nations preserve their own liberty, so much as it is to accept their help in preserving our own.

Dr. von Kleinsmid spoke to a large audience in which were many women. His address was advertised to be one along the lines of service in the kitchen, to help the world feed itself economically out of the scant food supplies that will be available during the next years of the world war. Rather, he talked to all citizens on the need—the downright need—of each doing and suffering and sacrificing, in order that a democratic principle may triumph against autocracy. Never before was the subject presented to a Prescott audience so frankly and daringly as it was in the ringing address of this educator, turned war advocate.

The speaker described America as a nation of mixed peoples, including in its body politic elements of strength and weakness from scores of races and nationalities. In that mixture, he declared, there was strength to fight this war—strength that comes to a cosmopolitan population from the very diversity of its origin, by reason of the fact it exists for and because of the principles of liberty on which the Union is founded.

America has been careless, tardy to respond, indifferent to demand, and these things have discounted 50 per cent, the chances the greater alliance for world freedom has of winning the war.

"We are free thinking. And we are free acting. It takes us a long time to decide that anybody has a right to tell us what to do. It is hard for us to accept the dictates of necessity."

Dr. von Kleinsmid described the period of confusion that followed for a month after the declaration of war—a period in which orders and plans were announced one day, to be countermanded and revised the next. This, he said, was due to the fact that a great social organization, exercising governmental control over a hundred million people had run up against a series of absolutely new conditions that could be mastered only after trials and suffering, mistakes and changes of plan.

President Wilson recently told the international secretary of the Y. M. C. A. that America, to win the war, must depend on three agencies—its military forces, the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. Preparations to form an army were well under way when 10,000,000 men registered for the draft on June 5. The Red Cross is a free gift of the American people to the government. So must the Y. M. C. A. be a donation from the public, even though in military circles, it is recognized as the thing that is absolutely essential to keep spirit in the fighting men.

Taking up the Liberty loan, he said that it was not so necessary to raise the two billions of dollars, as it was to raise it by small popular subscriptions. Germany had said that America could not raise a volunteer army. This was admitted. Germany then published broadcast, its belief that the American people would never submit to the draft. That falsehood has been crammed down the German throat by the voluntary enrollment of the 10,000,000 eligibles. Now, Germany is saying that the people of this nation will never give two billion dollars to the war. As swiftly as possible, this lie must also be sent back into the face of the German government which uttered it. No other agency will so dishearten the subjects of the Kaiser as that of the great money raising machine of Uncle Sam's treasury department. What if the war will take seven or ten or even fifteen billions? If the American "common people" contribute that first two billion, an answer will have been given to German statements that their newest opponents are not heart and soul in this conflict.

Lots of folks ask themselves why they should lend Uncle Sam their money at 3½ per cent when they can get 8 per cent from private loans. A $100 bond earns its owner $3.50 in a year. The same amount loaned at 8 per cent brings in $8. This means that in loaning to the government, the individual is actually donating the $4.50 difference to his Uncle Sam, to boost the war.

"If we do not pay now and pay big, we will pay bigger, later, when a possibly triumphant Germany comes over here with the intention expressed at the outset of the war, of collecting a forty billion dollar war indemnity from this fat, rich and east-loving nation of traders."

Not everybody in Dr. von Kleinsmid's audience had heard of the kindly intention of the Kaiser to charge the war to America, but after the speaker had told what he knew, no one doubted that Wilhelm Hohenzollern was capable of forcibly borrowing his war debt from this country, if he could.

America must enter upon a period of the most intensive production, in order to supply itself, its Allies and the starving nations of Belgium, Serbia, Poland and Armenia. In 1914, America raised 10½ bushels of wheat for each inhabitant. This year, with extreme good luck, America will be able to raise 4½ bushels per capita. The first year of the war, America ate its 10½ bushels per capita. The second, it raised less than it ate, and had to draw on its reserve and import grain.

In men, the war presents a set of statistics that appal the imagination. Fifty-six millions have been drawn from productive pursuits and put to work destroying and tearing down what civilization has been building up for centuries. In actual battle lines, 39,000,000 men are drawn up, 7,000,000 are dead (enough to populate 28 States the size of Arizona), 20,000,000 are in prison camps and hospitals.

When this war started, said the speaker, waste in America was merely foolish. Now, it is criminal.

Dr. von Kleinsmid was introduced to his audience by Judge E. W. Wells. On the platform were in addition, R. N. Fredericks, Harry W. Heap, Frank Whisman and W. A. Drake, of the Yavapai section of the State Defense Council, under whose auspices the address was given.

Judge Wells announced for 8:30 this evening, a public address by W. W. Hush, representing the National Red Cross Association, which has just organized a local chapter. The address will be given at the plaza, and no collection will be taken, so it is safe for everybody to attend.

START GRADING ON A TENTATIVE SITE FOR CHINO SCHOOL

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Work was begun this week on a site on the Chino Farms tract for a community or neighborhood house, including a five-acre garden. In the event it is decided by School District No. 36 to place the new school house on the tract, in the election of June 23, this site will be donated to the district for that purpose.

The building site is a convenient one, and surrounding it are five acres of as good land as there is in the tract. This land will be under irrigation, and is to be used as a sort of experimental or demonstration farm for the young folks of the Chino valley, whether the school is located there or not.

In case the school election carries, the building which will cost about $12,000 will be put up and furnished as soon as construction can be rushed. It may be possible that the school can be housed in its new home late next fall.

LEMMON'S ANTI-TORPEDO HAS BEEN TAKEN

Out of the thousands of suggestions and inventions sent to the war department and the 103 actual patents taken out on anti-torpedo devices, the torpedo catcher invented by G. G. Lemmon, of Prescott, and modeled here by him, has been one of the few accepted, according to word reaching the inventor yesterday.

Soon after building the five-foot model "Prescott," equipped with a miniature torpedo catcher, in the Sam'l Hill Hardware shop, Lemmons went to Washington to demonstrate to the government experts, having been called there by wire. On his return, he brought word that his invention had been taken by the war department.

RED CROSS HAS BIG CHORE IN THE BIG WAR

TREMENDOUS TASK OF HUMANITARIAN ARM OF U. S. GOVERNMENT IS DESCRIBED BY ORGANIZER HUSH.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Describing the American National Red Cross Association as the unofficial humanitarian arm of the United States government, H. H. Hush, Pacific coast organizer, last night made a strong plea for local support for the institution. The so-called Red Cross Auxiliary to the Prescott Home Guard has been reorganized into a Prescott chapter—one of 13 locals of the national organization in Arizona.

Today begins the campaign for members in the Prescott chapter. On Monday, the Red Cross week starts—a week set aside by the president's proclamation, for raising the first part of a fund of $100,000,000 with which to finance the Red Cross during the European war.

The Red Cross is not a sewing circle—it is not an organization for women alone. Its membership is open to all persons of all ages. Even infants in arms are members. All it requires is a membership fee of $1 a year, paid into the local chapter, and by it, transmitted in part to the Washington headquarters.

However one looks at it, the Red Cross has quite a chore on its hands in this war. This organization, which is only 56 years old, will be charged with the feeding of the starving populations of Belgium, Poland, Serbia, Armenia, Syria and parts of other European nations, the care of wounded on the battlefields, on every front, and the usual duties it assumes in this and every other nation of the globe, in handling the sufferers from flood, fire, famine and other forms of the Wrath of God.

Three years ago, Japan with a population of 40,000,000, Germany, Russia, Turkey—not all specially enlightened nations or specially addicted to humanitarianism, each enrolled a million and a half to 1,800,000 members in their national Red Cross associations. The Turkish organization is known as the "Red Crescent," by the way.

Three years ago, the United States, originator of the idea, had 28,000 members. Now, there are 400,000. By the end of next week, or at least, before the war is well under way for this country, there must be 1,500,000 members, or else the American National Red Cross will have to appeal to the Japanese, French, Hottentot or some other Red Cross to help prosecute the war on suffering.

Mr. Hush stated he believed there would be much more than the hundred million asked for. He compared the response to be expected for this, with that already given to the demands for the conscription enrollment and the Liberty Bonds.

M. B. Hazeltine, president of the Prescott Red Cross acted as master of ceremonies at the mass meeting on the plaza last evening. He took occasion to state that it was not true, as some believe, that the banks are getting anything in commissions for selling Liberty Loan bonds.

E. S. Clark was the first speaker. He made an eloquent plea for support for the Red Cross. A remarkable statement of his was that the bulk of the money for this work would come from the people of comparatively small means—just as the poor have always given the most toward all charities and benevolences.

Judge E. W. Wells spoke as one who is known to everybody he addressed in his audience, a pioneer of many years in this community. He, too, made a ringing appeal to the people of Prescott, to be ready this morning to give to the full extent of their means to the Red Cross.

ROCK AS WELL AS BRONCHO BUSTING

(From Thursday's Daily.)

That a miners' drilling contest would undoubtedly prove an attractive feature during the Frontier Days celebration was definitely agreed at a meeting of the Frontier Days committees held at the chamber of commerce Monday evening. This work will be taken up actively by the following committee: Dave Biles, chairman; Bob Birch and O. A. Hesla. A fund of $1,000 will be raised for this entertainment. This purse will be raised aside from the Frontier Days fund.

Arrangements have been made by Chairman E. S. Clark of the patriotic exercises committee, to hold this program in the Elks' theatre, on the morning of July 4th.

For the music committee, Chairman Whisman reported that arrangements have been made with the Prescott City Band to furnish a 16-piece brass band for the celebration. This organization is now in splendid shape and with the addition of a few new members will make one of the best musical organizations in the State.

Plans for an open air dancing pavilion have again been made for this year and this will be one of the features of the evening entertainment for the four days.

While arranging accommodations will be somewhat of a task, this important matter will be taken care of by "Brownie" Gentry and his associates. It is very probable that all of the cots which are on hand at the Bashford-Burmister store will be utilized to the full extent this year. John Duke, of the St. Michael hotel, has come forward and offered the use of two large spare rooms, in which cots can be placed. The committee also decided to ask the co-operation of every citizen in Prescott toward accommodating the many visitors who will be in the Mile High City.

A special invitation will be sent to all State, county and city officials in Arizona, requesting their presence at the Frontier Days. This invitation will be sent by R. N. Fredericks, chairman of the reception and entertainment committee of the chamber of commerce. Special Frontier Days invitations will be issued also by Mayor W. H. Timmerhoff, chairman of the Frontier Days reception and entertainment committee.

YAVAPAI ROSTER FOR WAR LIST IS 3,466

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Yavapai county registered 3,466 young men for the military draft. This figure was given out last night, when the county registration board, consisting of Under Sheriff J. H. Robinson, County Physician John W. Flinn and County Recorder Edith Ruffner finished canvassing the returns, and made up the summarized report to the State disbursing officer at Phoenix.

Of the 3,466 men between the ages of 21 and 30 inclusive, who registered on June 5, the following division is made: White, 2,138; colored, 30; aliens, 1,243; alien enemies, 55.

It is not known what the State authorities assigned to Yavapai as a census estimate of the eligibles, but whatever that figure is, it is thought the county exceeded it in actual registration. Being a county in which there is a good deal of mining, it is found that the number of young men runs ahead of the normal in communities where there is a more evenly graded population.

Yavapai county will have been nearly the last to report to the State authorities on its registration. The latest advices from Phoenix indicated that of the 14 counties, only Yavapai and Mohave were yet out.

GIVES MINE OPTION

(From Thursday's Daily.)

J. H. Cross was an arrival yesterday from his mining camp in Crook canyon and confirmed reports in circulation of having given recently an option on his group, to Boston investors. It is probable the deal will be formally closed up this Summer, and the consideration will be quite heavy. Mr. Cross has individually developed an excellent property, and has a small milling plant in operation. The product has been free milling, but the owner stated yesterday a copper condition is coming in at the water level, which was reached a short time ago.

SHOW YOUR CARD OR BE PINCHED AS A SLACKER

SHORT GRACE IS OVER AND YOUNG MEN WILL HAVE TO KICK IN OR SUFFER: OFFICERS RECEIVE ORDERS.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

The short grace granted to men between the ages of 21 and 30, who did not register for military service on June 5th, has ended and now, all who cannot produce a registration certificate, showing they have complied with the law, will be amenable to arrest without formality of a warrant. This is in substance, the message received by all peace officers from Disbursing Officer F. S. Breen at Phoenix, who has been instructed by Provost Marshal General Crowder.

There is but one way to leniency: that is for the chap who is arrested, to register at once. If he does this, he is released on his own recognizance. Otherwise, it costs $5,000 bail to buy temporary freedom, according to an order from the department of justice of the United States officers in Arizona.

The following order has been sent out to all peace officers of States, cities, counties, towns and hamlets of whatever grade or rank:

"Your attention is called to the following telegram of Provost Marshal General Crowder relative to your further duties in securing a complete registration of all male persons between the ages of 21 and 30, both inclusive:

"Quotas are to be assigned to the several States in proportion to their population as determined by the bureau of the census and not in proportion to the registration. The result is that every person who has failed to register is seriously increasing the burden of those who have registered. Ample notice and every opportunity has now been given and there is no longer any argument upon which the conduct of non-registrants can be condoned. The period of leniency referred to in my No. 500 has now passed. Attention is invited to Paragraph 16 of the Regulations.

"It is requested that every effort be now made to detect and arrest persons subject to registration who have not registered and to bring each case promptly to the attention of the nearest representative of the department of justice. Wide publicity should be given to the effect of non-registration in increasing the burden of those who have registered. Care should be taken that the lists prescribed in Paragraph 39 are promptly posted and all registrars should be asked to assist in bringing non-registrants to the attention of the police. Summarization reports of registration from the various boards should be compared with estimates of the census bureau and effort should be concentrated on those districts where discrepancy between registration and estimates seems greatest.

"In case of doubt as to age of persons who have not registered the tabulated record of political organizations and other local records should be consulted and data may be obtained from the bureau of the census. The purpose of this telegram is to inaugurate from June 11 a vigorous aggressive and effective enforcement of the penal clauses of the selective service law against all who have by their failure or refusal to register brought themselves under those provisions. The department of justice is sending today, June 10, similar advices to United States attorneys and marshals with instructions to release on their own recognizance all persons arrested by marshals or deputy marshals or by State, county and municipal police officers and turned over to them who promptly register under the terms of Paragraph 40, Registration Regulations."

Pardee, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ritter, Earl Sands, Walter Cline, Frank McCoy, John Fredericks, Strip Hindman and Billy Simon left last night for Holbrook, their destination being Springerville, where they will attend and participate in the Apache County Cowboy Reunion. Others follow tomorrow.

Fifteen head of cow ponies, and two racers, Tack and Vanity Fair, were shipped last night. The party will make the trip overland from Holbrook, taking four days. The range festivities begin on June 21 and for three days of a program. Purses range to over $2,000 for all events. Apache county cowboys, numbering over 50 will come to Prescott for Frontier Days.

FIRST MEETING OF PRESCOTT RED CROSS

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

A meeting of the officers of the Yavapai County Chapter of the American National Red Cross, which was recently organized in Prescott, was held yesterday afternoon, in the Federal court room. M. B. Hazeltine presided as chairman. The following committees were appointed to serve for this chapter: Educational course—Dr. R. N. Looney; civilian relief—James A. Hope; military relief—Geo. W. Nilsson; membership—Anna Cahill; publicity—Grace M. Sparkes; finance—E. A. Kastner; work-room—Mrs. A. J. Wardenburg.

An active membership campaign will open Thursday morning and continue throughout the week. The Prescott chapter should have a membership of at least 500. It is to be known that any one may join the Red Cross, that there is no enlistment in the Red Cross, that joining the Red Cross shows the patriotic spirit of those who cannot join the army or navy or subscribe to a Liberty Bond, but that can pay $1 as an annual membership to this humanitarian arm of government.

Through a proclamation of President Wilson, the week of June 18th to June 25th, will be known throughout the United States as Red Cross week, during which time there will be raised $100,000,000 which money will be spent to relieve the suffering of dependents here in the United States, as also of the Allied countries. Twenty-five per cent of the money raised by the Prescott chapter will remain with Treasurer Fredericks of the Prescott chapter, to be spent throughout the jurisdiction of Yavapai county. Seventy-five per cent will be sent to Washington, at which place it will be deposited with the treasurer of the United States.

Prescott has to raise $10,000! This money cannot be raised by large donations but will be realized by the collecting of small amounts. This fund will continue throughout the duration of the war and if war ceases all donations will be returned to the givers.

Join the Army! Join the Navy! Join the Red Cross! Do Your Bit! Memberships can be left with any of the banks or at the office of the Journal-Miner or Courier.

One dollar is the annual membership fee.

Headquarters will be opened in the Boy Scout headquarters. Join Now! Join Now!

LIBERTY BELL TOLLS FOR THE LOAN

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The Liberty Bell in the old Continental hall in Philadelphia tolled a message to American citizens last night, and in every city and town in the union, church bells relayed the message. Tonight, at 9 o'clock, the ceremony will be repeated, and tomorrow night and on until Friday, by which time the limit of time for subscribing to the Liberty Loan shall have passed.

In Prescott, the Catholic church, only possessor of a bell, tolled its message to the public, in response to a request wired to each telephone manager by Theodore N. Vail, head of the American Bell Telephone Co. Four strokes of the bell were rung last night; three will be rung tonight, two tomorrow night and one the following, to typify the number of days left in which to lend to the United States the sinews of war.

The suggestion was made by the Journal-Miner last night, that the tones of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia, be sent to the various exchanges throughout the country by long distance telephone, in order that subscribers might, in their own homes, hear the famous old bell. R. M. Buehler, local manager, will put this up to the headquarters today. It is not impossible that this great publicity stunt will be pulled off, as before now, men in scores of cities, have listened to addresses around the banquet table in Boston, and other Eastern cities.

The stunt of having the churches all over the United States toll their bells at 9 p. m. each evening, relaying the message of the Liberty Bell, was suggested by Mrs. William G. McAdoo, president of the Woman's Liberty Loan committee.

EIGHT TEAMS IN ROCK BUSTING CONTEST

16 MINERS AGREE TO DRILL ROCK FOR A PURSE OF $1000 ON JULY 4; MANY ENTRIES ARE ANTICIPATED.

(From Friday's Daily.)

Eight two-man teams have entered the lists for the $1,000 rock drilling contest, which has just been added to the program of the Frontier Days celebration. This was announced by Chairman Dave Biles of the drilling contest committee at the chamber of commerce last night.

A number of other teams will be entered from Jerome, Humboldt, Mayer and other mining centers before long, it is said. A big pebble for the drilling has been donated by Rogers & Ashton, the court house contractors.

A provision insisted on by the contestants is to bar all professional exhibition drillers. This is to prevent some outside teams that are always in training for exhibitions, from sliding in and copping the dough.

Colonel Fred Bowler was added to the contest committee last night, along with Mr. Biles, O. A. Hesla and Bob Birch.

Phoenix Excursion

Phoenix will again send an excursion to Prescott Frontier Days. This was definitely announced in a letter from Secretary Harry Welch of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce. The excursion will probably be here over the night of July, leaving late July 4.

Silver Service Fund

Yavapai county will not have to worry about raising money for the famous silver service for the battle-shield Arizona. The donation of Senator W. A. Clark of $5,000 toward the fund is considered to have wiped out this county's share of the debt, leaving about $2,500 to be raised by the other 13 counties.

James L. Coleman, new member of the law firm of Anderson, Coleman & Nilsson was accepted last evening as a member of the chamber of commerce.

Appreciate Wester

That the chamber of commerce appreciates the work here of Howard W. Wester, is attested by the following resolutions:

"Be It Resolved, by the Yavapai County Chamber of Commerce, that the work of Howard W. Wester, until recently scoutmaster of the Boy Scouts of Prescott, Arizona, has been an unqualified success from a business, civic and moral standpoint;

"That this organization heartily endorses the splendid work which has been done in this section under the guidance of Mr. Wester, and "That it hereby voices its unqualified commendation and admiration for the ability, industry and devotion to duty of Mr. Wester;

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Yavapai County Chamber of Commerce, and that a copy be forwarded to the Birmingham, Alabama Chamber of Commerce and that a copy be sent to Scoutmaster Wester."

LARGE OPERATIONS BEGIN ON THE ELK

(From Friday's Daily.)

The establishment of a new camp, on the Elk group of gold mines by the Arizona and California Mining Co., and the installation of an air compressor to drive three drills, marks the beginning of wider exploration for this undertaking. Development work during the past week has proven satisfactory to Manager Wilhelm, and a line of work to last for several months is to be energetically rushed. Mr. Wilhelm also announced yesterday that he would revive the Ruth in a short time, since lead and silver quotations were attractive.

JAG COSTLY ASIDE FROM BOOZE PRICE

(From Friday's Daily.)

The price of a drunk is high in Prescott, even leaving out the cost of the prime necessity, booze. A new scale of wages, even higher than the famous Miami, is in effect in the court of justice of the Peace McLane.

When two obviously drunk and disorderly citizens were haled before the magistrate yesterday, he decided that the circumstances warranted action. So he got it, at the rate of $50 per drunk. Mr. Morley paid his $50. W. E. Mead could not find the ready cash, so he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff, to work out the fine at the usual rates.
